

Andrew McMechan

UI/UX Designer

Hey, I'm Andrew! I'm a Software Engineer turned UI/UX Designer based in Bonn, Germany. Born and raised in Belfast, Ireland, I moved to Bonn, Germany in 2016 to expand my career opportunities on the continent. My current focus is User Experience Design for a number of customer facing products with the Deutsche Telekom.

EXPERIENCE

cronn GmbH / UI/UX Designer

SEPTEMBER 2017 - PRESENT

Having been involved since the PoC Phase of my current project, I have gained a lot of experience in transitioning from a lone designer in a team of 8 people, to a SAFe project with over 10 SCRUM Teams and around 150 collaborators.

cronn GmbH / Software Developer

JUNE 2016 - AUGUST 2017

Using the GWT Framework, I was part of a team responsible for a Web Interface used by the various regional branches of the Deutsche Telekom for the administration of provisioned SIM cards. My main responsibilities and duties revolved around Java, JUnit, Mockito, SOAP API and Selenium testing.

Liberty IT / Associate Software Engineer

SEPTEMBER 2015 - MAY 2016

I worked with the Usability Team for Commercial Insurance Software to ensure a solid user experience for Insurance Agents across America. My main responsibilities included Java, Struts, JQuery and JUnit
